The Space In Between

COVE is named after the idea of a sheltered space, a place that feels tucked away, yet deeply connected.*

A cove is intimate, enclosed, and meant to be discovered, bringing people closer, naturally.

That idea shapes everything here. Because when people come together without distance, something shifts, conversations flow easier, energy feels shared, and the room begins to move as one.

COVE is built for that feeling; not just a bar, but a space where people gather, settle in, and become part of the same moment.*
